

Megan

and Her Cute Little Sisters

I am 7-years-old today. My sisters Abigail, Brigid and Caroline are 4 years old. I was almost 3-years-old when they were born. When they were babies we never did anything fun. Mom was always busy with them, and Daddy was always listening to them. Little Abby cried a lot. Brigid was always smiling and not crying. Caroline always screamed her head off.

My family is different from my friends' families because I live in two different houses. I live with my Mom, and I live with my Dad. I am the only kid at school with three sisters. They are all the same age.

I have many favorite things I like to do. I like to ride horses. I take riding lessons, and I learn to ride English Saddle. I also learn to show horses. I want to learn how to ride Western Saddle. I like to ride my scooter and go to my friend's house. She lives across the street from me. I like to watch Hanna Montana and Horseland. I like to play on the computer at www.horseland.com. I like to go to the beach and McDonald's. My Mom took us to Turks and Caicos for a week and we saw a guy riding a horse on the beach.

I am good at riding horses. I am good at riding my scooter. I am good at reading, writing and math. When I grow up I want to continue to ride horses because I love horses.

The thing I like to do with just my Dad is to go swimming, and I like to play in the sprinkler with my Mom. The thing I like to do with just my sisters is to play downstairs in our playroom with our Barbies.

Sometimes my friends make a fuss over my sisters. I tell my teacher it makes me feel sad.

The way my parents show me how much they love me and how important I am in the family is my Mom shows me I am special because she always includes me. My Dad always takes us to the swimming pool. We go to the swimming pool at the University of Louisville. ♡♡
